EXPERIENCE

Panikar

Kermanshah, Iran
*Feb 2023 – Present
Part-time – Remote

Front-end Developer

- I entered this group as a front-end developer with the aim of modifying and improving the previous code of the project and upgrading the technology of one of the company's products from ReactJs to NextJs, and after successfully completing my first task as a front-end developer of the new parts of the website I continued to work on the company's dashboard and management panel.

- My most important achievement and challenge in the company was using TypeScript and NextJS for the first time, which was both very challenging and very enjoyable.
